Joe Lindsey, son of Geo. R.
Lindsey, started for Dundy county, Nebr., last Friday to visit his aunt, Mrs. G. W. Strobidge.
Joe's health has been poor this summer and it is hoped the change will be beneficial.

Peter Kerker sold over $7 worth of steak to Brownville parties last Saturday, filling about a dozen orders brought down by Mrs. Del Vandeventer.
The Brownville people know where to come to get good meat.

W. F. Gillespie and Orville Holding took a load of watermelons to Salem Monday. Last week they took two loads to Falls City, selling them out for $33. They have some nice melons, raised on the Missouri river bottom land northeast of Nema-ha.

P. D. Ailor and Mr. Yeager of Auburn were visitors at these headquarters Monday. Mr.
Ailor has been engaged to teach the Larkin school this year. He taught this school fifteen years ago, and gave such good satisfaction that the district was glad to get him back again.

Excursion to Salem Sunday

Next Sunday an excursion train will be run to Salem, that being the last day of the chautauqua. The excursion will leave at 8:45 a. m. Returning, it will leave Salem at 10:30 p. m. Fare for the round trip, 76 cents.
C. V. Glenn, Agent

It was Curt Brown and not R.
I. that owned the glandered horse, mention of which was made last week. Last spring Curt traded a span of mules for a span of fine two-year-old black colts, and the one that was killed was one of them. The other one has the distemper in a mild form at present.

Joe Bunker's merry-go-round tarried in Nemaha Sunday night or the latter part of it. He was taking it to Brownville. He was to have been at Stella at the two days picnic but on account of a disagreement with the management as to location he pulled out, getting to Nemaha about one o'clock Sunday night.

Fine gift books on sale at the postoffice bookstore.

Best line of lawn mowers a reasonable prices.
E. & B. Lbr. Co.

Mrs. John W. White went to Auburn Saturday returning Tuesday.

Will F. Keeling, F. E. Hoover, Marshall Webb and Geo. S. Keith, who went to Billings, Montana, and took part in the great land drawing a few weeks ago, have received notice that many claims that were drawn then have not been taken, and if they want some of the land to make application. None of them are inclined to do so, however.

A. L. P. Thompson and family left Wednesday afternoon for their new home in Shenandoah, Iowa, where Mr. Thompson will take an active part in the management of the Henry Field Seed Co., of which he is one of the directors. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Miss Pearl will be greatly missed especially in the Champion neighborhood. They have the best wishes a large circle of friends.

Miss May Kerker, who has been head angel in The Advertiser office for almost three years, as well as clerk in the postoffice, has resigned these positions, although she promises to help us out occasionally if we get pushed. Miss May is one of the very best helpers we have ever had in our experience of thirty-five years in the business. She has always been willing to do even more than her share, is intelligent, quick to learn, always taking great interest in the work.
We regret very much to have her leave us, and wish her all possible good fortune in her future life.
